The Law Society of NSW has been recognised consistently at an industry level, both as finalist, highly commended and winners at the Mumbrella Publish Awards, an annual event showcasing the best of magazine publishing in Australia.

*Founded more than 180 years ago,
The Law Society of NSW is the largest legal membership association in Australia, representing the interests of over 37,500 members.*

Law Society members are valuable consumers and commanding business influencers, making our membership base one of the most highly sought-after in the country.

The heart of the Law Society can be found in our motto, Omnium Jura Defendimus – Defending the rights of all.

We defend the rule of law by supporting the legal profession.

THE LAW SOCIETY JOURNAL
MORE THAN A MAGAZINE

Since 1963, The Law Society Journal has been more than just a publication: it has been a trusted companion to generations of solicitors, a source of knowledge and a space for ideas.

Today, that legacy continues across LSJ Online, our weekly newsletter and a suite of popular podcasts, together forming LSJ Media, one of the most frequently cited benefits of membership to the Law Society of NSW.

From print to podcast, with plenty of digital offerings in between, we are proud to set the legal news agenda in NSW. With a small and passionate team, we bring critical information about the law and trends within the legal profession to our members in an accessible and engaging way. Alongside that, we produce compelling human stories of those within the law and those who are affected and shaped by it.

By joining us as a partner, you are not simply placing an ad space. You are entering a conversation with the legal profession and aligning with a publication that readers value deeply. Our audience includes private practitioners, corporate counsel, government lawyers and in-house teams, people who turn to us for insight and connection.

With more than 30,000 readers in print and strong engagement online, the Journal and its digital channels reach professionals who are active, thoughtful and influential in their fields. LSJ Media embraces the old and the new, legacy and innovation, digital and print. At the centre of this is our iconic quarterly print magazine, the Law Society Journal. Alongside it are an array of weekly and monthly eNewsletters and our popular podcast series JustChat. Together, this suite of offerings is diverse, agile and comprehensive, allowing your message to reach the profession in ways that feel both natural and relevant.

Every placement sits alongside high-quality editorial content, ensuring that your presence feels part of the dialogue rather than an interruption.

When you choose to advertise with us, you are aligning with a trusted institution, positioning your brand as a thoughtful participant in the profession and gaining access to an audience with both influence and purchasing power. Most importantly, you are joining a conversation with a readership that values meaningful engagement.

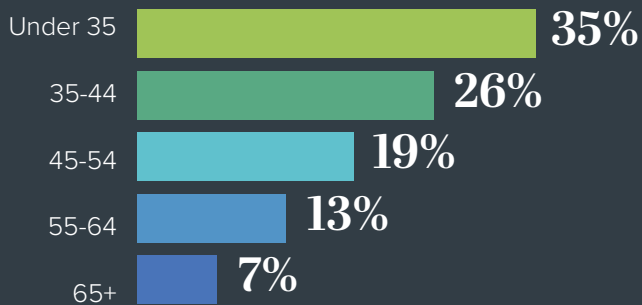

We would be delighted to explore how we can share your story with our readers.
